甲部、中文個人短講 (錄像 A)

請在以下四條題目中選取一條,用不超過兩分鐘時間作個人短講。錄影開始時,請用約 15 秒作簡單自我介紹 (只需介紹姓名及現在就讀學校):

1. 在學校上課和網上實時課堂,你較喜歡哪種學習模式?為什麼?
2. 今年暑假比往常時間少,你會怎樣善用這個假期?為甚麼?
3. 如果讓你從電腦、手提電話和電視中選擇放棄其中一樣,你會選哪樣?為甚麼?
4. 很多中學都積極推動親子活動,如果你是校長,你會選擇以下哪一項?為什麼?
(1) 親子閱讀 (2) 親子下廚 (3) 親子旅行

Section B (Video B)

You are given THREE minutes to finish TWO tasks. Videotape BOTH tasks in the same video. The tasks are as follows:

Task 1 Self-introduction and individual presentation: (1.5 minutes)

- a. Introduce yourself
- b. Is English your favourite subject? Why/Why not?

Task 2 Read aloud: (1.5 minutes)

There are four passages for you to choose. Pick ONE and read it within 1.5 minutes. It doesn't matter if you cannot finish reading the whole passage in 1 minute and 30 seconds.

Notes to applicants:

If you record the two tasks separately, please ensure you have combined them into ONE SINGLE video (i.e. the video B) before submission.

Passage 1

Harry Potter and the Cursed Child

By Jack Thorne, John Tiffany and J.K. Rowling

We all thought that the Harry Potter series ends at the conclusion of The Deathly Hallows, where grown-up Harry, Ginny, Ron and Hermione see their children off to Hogwarts. Should Harry Potter fans around the world be jumping up and down in excitement as the eighth installment of the series is released?

Despite being the official eighth Harry Potter story, this is not a novel written by J.K. Rowling but a two-part stage play composed by Jack Thorne in collaboration with theater director John Tiffany. The play is based on a new story. Because it is a script for a play, expecting the same enjoyable experience of reading the previous books may turn into a bit of a disappointment, especially if you are a die-hard fan of the series.

The story is set 19 years after the main story of the Deathly Hallows. Harry is now 37, married to Ginny and the father of three children. If school was tough for Harry back in his days, it is now even tougher for his youngest son Albus, who is expected to live up to the Potter legacy. Everything Albus does is compared with his famous father. Meanwhile, the adult Harry Potter, who is now an overworked employee of the Ministry of Magic, has not only to live with his glorious past but also grapple with problems in his present life and family relationships.

The Boy Who Harnessed the Wind

In a remote village in Malawi, a country in southeastern Africa, lives a boy named William Kamkwada. He has a strong thirst for knowledge but is unable to attend school because his family is poor and cannot afford the fees. William resorts to self-learning by visiting the village library whenever he can.

When a severe drought hits William's village, almost all the crops fail. The subsequent famine forces many villagers to leave their homes. William's sister goes with them but William wants to save his village. He comes up with a plan to build a windmill to power an electric pump, which will draw underground water to irrigate the crops.

William builds a small-scale model to show that his idea works. To build the real thing, however, he needs to dismantle the family bicycle and use its parts. But the bicycle is his family's last valuable property. His father objects fiercely, saying that it is just a foolish idea. William is still confident that the windmill is the solution to saving the village.

The inspiring British movie is based on the true story of a young boy in adversity, who overcomes all difficulties and realizes an impossible dream. The film was released on January 24 this year and is currently available on Netflix.

The School for Good and Evil

By Soman Chainani

Every four years, two children are abducted from the village of Gavaldon and spirited away into the woods that surround the village. A big box of storybooks mysteriously appears in the village bookstore each year and the books' characters closely resemble the missing children. It is believed that the kids are taken to The School for Good and Evil, a secret place where they are transformed into fairytale heroes and villains.

This year, two girls have gone missing. It seems obvious that pretty, kind-hearted Sophie will go to The School for Good to train to become a princess while ugly, ill-tempered Agatha will be sent to The School of Evil. But it turns out to be the reverse!

Sophie reluctantly takes such courses as 'Uglification', 'Death Curses', and 'Henchmen Training', while Agatha must attend classes like 'Princess Etiquette' and 'Animal Communication'. Has there been a big mistake? Or is it the girls' destiny to discover who they really are?

The School of Good and Evil is a series of six books with stereotypical fairytale characters portrayed in a way that overturns conventional notions of good and evil. The first book was published in 2013 and the series has since won many awards, including the Waterstone Children's Book Prize for Best Fiction.

7 miles below the Ocean Surface something has awakened – Underwater

Human beings have already populated most of the habitable land on the planet, yet over 90 per cent of the oceans remain unexplored. There is evidence that life on earth originated in the sea and some scientists believe that many mysterious marine creatures are still unknown to man.

This movie is set in a deep-sea laboratory, where scientists and engineers are carrying out research and doing experiments on the ocean floor. There is a huge undersea earthquake and the laboratory is seriously damaged. The crew must escape from the crumbling structure.

Their oxygen is running out and there is no time to waste. But that is not all they have to fear. The engineers awakened a dormant sea monster while they were drilling the ocean floor to do their experiments. Now the monster is coming after them.

This sci-fi thriller stars Kristen Stewart as Nora, one of the scientific researchers, who is stranded at the bottom of the sea along with the rest of the crew. Stewart has battled evil vampires, wicked queens and cunning secret agents in her previous movies. Now the acclaimed actress must pluck up her courage to defeat a bloodthirsty deep-sea monster.
